Supplying your artwork

COLOURS:

Your logo will be screen printed directly onto the glass in solid Pantone colour. Please make sure that your file is saved in a single colour, or two colours if that's your printing preference. Artwork should be supplied as separate layers for each Pantone colour print.

We have a wide range of stock colours available for printing, so we usually have something very close to the colour required, however we can colour match specific Pantone colours for an additional charge. When you send us your design file please state your preferred Pantone colour reference/s. Please also state whether you'd like us to match to our closest stock colours, or if it's essential that we print your exact Pantone colour.

ARTWORK SUPPLY GUIDE:

When sending your design to us please ensure that it is a vector file, preferably Adobe Illustrator (.ai) or .pdf file. Please download the correct artwork printing template for your chosen bottle from our website.

Any text included in the artwork must be converted to outlines to avoid any fonts being substituted.

Artwork should be supplied as separate layers for each Pantone colour print.

Please email your artwork to: hello@thirstywork.com

PROOFING:

You will receive a digital proof showing the placement of your artwork for final acceptance before proceeding to print your order.

PRINTING SPECIFICATION:

The full available wrap print area is shown on the supplied template. If using a full wrap the whole artwork space can be filled.

If you'd simply like to add your logo to the front of the bottle we recommend centralising the main elements of your logo horizontally at a maximum of approximately 65mm wide (depending on the design). This will ensure that your logo is completely visible when viewed from the front.

Please add 3mm bleed to all edges.

Print process: Pantone
(colour matching is not guaranteed)

Artwork format: Vector

Bottle colour: Clear
